In the response, I was advised there is no information updated information since the Financial Impact Analysis of March 2016. Follow up questions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• How about the on-site infrastructure costs and the total infrastructure costs? That is, the $3.3 billion of on-site costs and how that is broken down into water, waste water, storm water, and roads; and the total infrastructure costs of $4,494,720,000 and how that is broken down</li> <li>• When are the updated on-site and off-site costs expected? What are the design parameters for the area?</li> <li>• If there is no draft estimate of costs since March of 2016, what are the financial parameters being used to design this city of 85,000 people?</li> <li>• In the Financial Viability Assessment (FVA), is Alberta Transportation expected to comment on the assumption that it will provide the financial support for roads, interchanges, flyovers, and the like?</li> <li>• Will the FVA contain the feasibility analysis information on Strathcona County and the developer's ability to finance the development, and the assumption under the FIA that the developer would front end all hard infrastructure?</li> <li>• The ACP is expected in December. Has this date changed?</li> <li>• Who decided to increase the population by 57 per cent to 85,000?
