What will the Strategy mean to the community?

Fosters a stronger delivery system for recreation and culture opportunities

• More holistic approach taking into consideration five key areas of focus

• Better able to address gaps in provision of recreation and culture in the community

• Ability to prioritize investment in infrastructure based on community need

• Encourages connections between community groups to find synergies

• Focuses on understanding and removing barriers to participation
What We Heard

- Recreation and culture are important elements of people’s lives and to the community.

- People are satisfied with the many recreation and culture opportunities available to them.

- Barriers to participation do exist for some, which include cost, awareness of the opportunities, program availability, and physical accessibility.
Outcomes

1. Recreation and culture opportunities contribute to the well-being of all individuals.

2. Recreation and culture opportunities contribute to the cohesion, vibrancy and overall well-being of our community.

3. High quality recreation, parks and culture places and spaces are created and maintained.
Five Key Areas of Focus

• Community needs
  Identifying, prioritizing and serving the needs of the community

• Inclusion
  Addressing barriers to participation

• Building capacity
  Exploring partnerships and collaboration

• Environmental stewardship
  Respecting the natural environment

• Fiscal responsibility
  Making the most of our resources

Next steps for community organizations and partners

Everyone will be encouraged to choose the priorities relevant to their organization’s goals and aspirations and develop their own implementation plan.

The outcomes are best achieved if we all work towards the same vision, learning from each other, collaborating often, and ensuring that everyone has opportunities to engage in recreation and culture.
Next steps for the County

- Recreation and Culture Strategy Approval (October)
- Transitional Studies (move from existing OSRFS to new Strategy)
- Internal Engagement to inform Implementation Plan (Q4 2019)
- Finalize 12-Year Implementation Plan (Q1-2 2020)
