Community recycling services

- Broadview Enviroservice Station and Ardrossan Recycle Station to close to the public at the end of day Friday, March 27th.
 - Protection of staff and public by reducing interactions out of home.
 - Lack of controls at Ardrossan site are resulting in increased abuse and misuse.
 - Concern for staff capacity and safety when cleaning and handling these dumped or contaminated materials.
 - Removal of bins at Ardrossan and fencing in place.
- Redirect residents to hold/store materials safely or utilize curbside recycling services where possible.

Curbside waste services

- Utilities is monitoring and planning for an approach that:
 - will handle the potential increase in household waste generation during the COVID-19;
 - will protect our core collection services for waste, organics and recycle; and
 - will prioritize the health and safety of our community, including essential contractors.
- At this time, Utilities is not seeing an influx of customer complaints related to increased waste materials, nor an increase in tonnages that would warrant additional or alternate collection schedule.
 - Seeing an increase in recycling and less waste compared to similar week in February and March 2019.

	March 2020	Feb 2020	March 2019	Ave. Variar
Waste	428 tonnes	446 tonnes	463 tonnes	- 6.5%
Recycle	83 tonnes	76 tonnes	76 tonnes	+ 10%

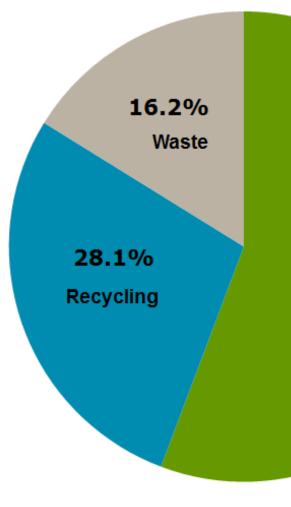

- .5%
- ariance

Curbside waste services

- Collection contractor, GFL Environmental, is in a good resource position to ensure continuity of services.
- Overall waste generation may increase, but 80% of materials can be composted or recycled.
- The waste system depends on having materials correctly sorted.
- There is no limit to the amount of recycling that can be left out for collection. Food scraps, soiled paper, coffee filters and other organic material can be placed in the green cart (organics) to allow for extra capacity in the black cart.
- Utilities will increase communication and education related to sorting practices and will continue to monitor the situation changes.
